

Pre-Survey

Strongly disagree to strongly agree questions:

1. The Design Center provides a welcoming environment to learn new technologies.
2. I have experience working with electronics.
3. I perceive barriers to learning electronics.
4. I would experiment with electronics in the Design Center.
5. I feel intimidated by experimenting with electronics at my current knowledge level.
6. I feel ready to experiment with electronics at my current knowledge level.
7. In the past, I have used zines to learn.
8. In the past, I have used online resources to learn.

Review the following types of learning styles:

Visual - Learning through visual aids such as diagrams, charts, and videos.

Kinesthetic - Learning through physical activities, hands-on experiences, and experimentation.

Auditory - Learning through listening, lectures, discussions, and audio materials.

Read/ Write - Learning through reading and writing, such as textbooks, note-taking, and written activities.

Which do you identify as? Select all that apply.

Review the following types of learning styles:

Social - Learning through interaction with others, group activities, and collaborative projects.

Solitary - Learning independently, through self-study, reflection, and individual exploration.

Which do you identify as? Select all that apply.

Open ended questions:

Please describe any barriers you experience when learning or thinking about learning electronics.

How does this make you feel? Please provide 5-7 sentences.